TWO INJURED WHEN WATERFRONT GANGS ENGAGE IN BATTLE

Striking Longshoremen and Sympathizers Gather at Hiring Hall in Vancouver and Stone Workers on Way to Docks—Two Arrested on Charges of Assault

VANCOUVER, Aug. 30 (P).—Two waterfront workers were injured and two striking longshoremen were arrested on charges of assault as a result of a demonstration tonight when 1,000 strikers and sympathizers gathered in front of the British Columbia Shipping Federation hiring hall and jeered and stoned workers on their way to the waterfront.

A small squad of city police re-ordered.
Carl Windland, West Seventy-Third Avenue, was taken to St. Paul's Hospital suffering from a deep gash over his eye and other cuts and bruises.
Frank Gilzar, Main Street, was given emergency treatment for cuts about the head and face.

AUTOMOBILES STONED
The two injured were in separate cars which were taking waterfront workers to the docks when they were attacked by the strikers, who hurled bricks and rocks through the car windows.

William Sneddon was arrested by police after a two-block chase through lanes in the vicinity and charged with assault and malicious damage to property.
Tom Lewis, the other demonstrator arrested, was charged with assault.

Only Few Seconds Separate Howard and Turner in Race to Cleveland

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 30 (P).—Benjamin O. Howard, Chicago air mail pilot, drove his white cabin plane, Mister Mulligan, through murky skies today to an apparent victory in the Bendix Trophy race from Burbank Union Air Terminal, Los Angeles, to Cleveland.

While Howard was nosing out Colonel Roscoe Turner in flying time less than a minute better than his rival's, the body of Cecil Allen, young California pilot, was taken from his crumpled plane at the scene of the race start.

MEETS INSTANT DEATH
Less than two minutes after Allen sent his snub-nosed monoplane precariously on its way from Union Air Terminal into the fog-mantled dawn, he crashed to instant death in a potato field two miles west of the airport.

The once sleek red and white low-winged Geebe speedster, Spirit of Right, was strewn over the sandy soil, a jumbled mass of wreckage with Allen's lifeless body pinned in the cramped cockpit.

MAKE FAST TIME
Howard flew the 2,046 miles in 8 hours 33 minutes and 16.3 seconds. Turner, winner of the 1933 race, flashed across the finish line approximately two hours later, and his time was computed as 8 hours 33 minutes 39.8 seconds.

In the third place was Russell Thaw, a New Yorker, who made the long hop without stopping for an official time of 10:06:45.8. Roy Hunt, who arrived ahead of Thaw, was timed 11:40:03.1 for fourth place.
Amelia Earhart, who said on the take-off she was flying "for the ride," was unsupported for hours, and was the last of those who finished to arrive. She made the trip in 13:47:06.35, race officials said.

Sir Malcolm Campbell Hopes to Better Record on Utah Salt Flats

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 30 (P).—Sir Malcolm Campbell, holder of the world's land speed record of 276 miles per hour, announced to newspapermen late today that he would make an attempt to boost his record to 300 miles per hour Tuesday morning. The Englishman, who carefully inspected a big portion of the thirteen-mile track over the white stretches of salt, said if present plans materialized he will bring the big Bluebird racer here from Windover, ten miles away, Monday morning, for practice runs, and will make an official assault on the record the following forenoon.

British Battleship and German Steamer Collide in Channel

DOVER, England, Aug. 30 (P).—The British battleship Ramillies and the North German Lloyd steamer Eisenach collided nine miles from here in the English Channel late today, and both vessels immediately steered for this port. No injuries were reported from either vessel.

The extent of the damages was not known, but coast guardsmen said the bow of the Eisenach, a freighter carrying no passengers, appeared through telescopes to be "smashed flat as a pancake."

A sixty-mile-an-hour gale was delaying the progress of the vessels for Dover, but the battleship, which was en route to Portland when the collision occurred, was reported staying by the Eisenach.

British Columbia Is Committed to Building Bridge

Dominion Bridge Company, Ltd., Takes $1,000,000 in Bridge Bonds From Province Now and Will Buy Second Million Later—Start Ordered on Shore End of Project

BRITISH Columbia was formally committed yesterday to construction of the proposed new toll bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster. Total first cost of the project has been placed by the Government at some $3,500,000, though $4,000,000 is mentioned in the covering act passed by the Legislature.

Premier Pattullo signed the main contract with the Dominion Bridge Company, Ltd., successful tenderers, in the morning, this calling for $2,722,101 for the major part of the work. The Province will borrow the money.

As the Government has not yet received Federal approval for the commencement of work in the riverbed, the contractors were ordered to make a start upon land units of the work with the erection of marine slips, the construction of caissons, and preparation of the approaches at either end of the bridge. This phase of the project will cost $600,000, it was said.

BRITISH MINERS THREATEN STRIKE

Secretary Says Workers Will Walk Out if Wage Demands Are Not Met

LONDON, Aug. 30 (CP-Havas).—A national miners' strike will be declared in Great Britain if demands for higher wages and better working conditions are not met, E. J. Edwards, secretary of the Miners' Federation, declared in a manifesto tonight. The manifesto asked the public to help the miners avoid a crisis.

"The hour has struck," it said. "After years of patient submission to conditions fit for slaves, the miners have decided to enforce their demands for the payment of reasonable wages. Their wages are a shame for a civilized community."

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 30 (P).—Harold Farquhar, first secretary of the British Legation in Mexico City, and Pilot Fritz Bieler, former German war ace, landed their plane on Harding Lake, about fifty miles from here, today.

It was presumed they came direct from Akavik, N.W.T., to which place an Edmonton dispatch stated they were flying from Norman, N.W.T.

The two are on a leisurely ground-the-world flight.

King Haile Selassie Signs Concession to Foreign Interests for Exploitation of Valuable Oil and Mineral Deposits—Move May Cause International Complications—Is Surprise

Agreement Is Concluded at Secret Conference at Night

By JAMES A. MILLER

(World Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press)

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 30.—Francis M. Rickett, a British promoter, told this correspondent today that Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, seeking to stop an expected Italian advance into Ethiopia, decided more than half his empire to Anglo-American interests for exploitation and development just before last midnight.

I, myself, saw the original charter, signed by the Emperor with his official title "Anointed King of Kings." Duplicate versions, one in English, the other in Amharic, carried the great imperial seal of the "Conquering Lion of Judah."

By this remarkable document, the sovereign turned over an area of 150,000 square miles to the Standard Oil Company and British industrial interests under a seventy-five-year charter. The charter authorizes its holders to exploit the oil and mineral resources and develop the country.

Rickett said the Emperor also entered into negotiations looking toward the granting of a right in perpetuity to a corporation known as the Lake Tanna Conservancy Syndicate, which proposes to build a dam and pumping stations at Lake Tanna, one of the sources of the blue Nile, long a subject of international vigilance and of particular concern to Britain.

WORKING FOR JOINT REPORT

Great Britain Seeks to Secure French Backing Before League Meets

LONDON, Aug. 30 (CP-Havas).—From reliable sources here it was learned tonight that Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs, will try during his conference with Premier Laval of France, next Monday, to work out a joint single report on the Italo-Ethiopian conflict for presentation before the League Council next Wednesday by the French and British delegations.

Eden was at work tonight on the report he will carry to Geneva next week. It was stated that the completed document would be elastic enough to permit France to join with Great Britain in a unified stand before the League Council.

Although at the last Cabinet meeting it was indicated the report would constitute a simple statement of the facts in the Italo-Ethiopian situation, it appeared tonight that the British now would like to scrutinize the basic causes of the conflict.

BLOCKS SANCTIONS
CANNBERRA, Australia, Aug. 30 (P).—Imposition by the League of Nations, of sanctions against an aggressor nation for instance, tonight became a virtual impossibility.

The Australian Cabinet, willing as it is to back up Great Britain's efforts to solve the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel by peaceful means, tonight was understood to have reached the decision it could not go so far as to Continued on Page 2, Column 5

CAMPBELL BLACK PLANNING FLIGHT

British Airman Announces Proposed Flight to Newfoundland and Return from England and Return Soon

LONDON, Aug. 30 (P).—A transatlantic flight to Newfoundland and return, in the middle of September, is the aim of T. Campbell Black, noted airman, who with C. W. A. Scott won the great London-to-Melbourne Air Derby last October.

Black, recently forced back by engine trouble on an attempted record flight to the Cape, announced today he will take off from Southern Ireland next month, granted favorable weather conditions, on his latest venture.

On his return, he intends to make another attempt to break the record to the Cape and back, probably in October.

His Comet plane, sister of the Melbourne Derby winner, is now being elaborately groomed for what Black calls "a long week-end trip." He will have William McArthur as second pilot, and also a wireless operator.

B RUSSELS, Aug. 30 (P).—Mourners from high and low stations, united by common grief for their dead Queen Astrid, filed sadly past a bed covered with white silk today for a final glimpse at her pale, bandaged face.

Upon its arrival by special train from Switzerland, where she was killed yesterday in an automobile wreck, the body of the twenty-nine-year-old queen and mother was placed in state in the royal palace.

It lay in the black-draped "Thinkers Hall." There King Leopold, who escaped the fate which overtook his wife when the car he was driving struck a tree, spent the morning before the public was admitted.

Former Victoria Resident First Foreigner Stricken By Epidemic

An epidemic of sleeping sickness sweeping Japan claimed its first foreign victim today when Miss Louise Hayward, an employee of the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, in Yokohama, and formerly of Victoria, was stricken, according to advices received here.

Doctors reported her condition somewhat improved following administration of a serum.

Meanwhile, lower temperatures, due to storms, apparently were checking the spread of the disease which has proved fatal in 60 per cent of the cases in similar epidemics recently.

Miss Hayward is a daughter of the late E. C. Hayward and Mrs. Hayward, and a niece of ex-Mayor Reginald Hayward. She was formerly secretary to the late Gene Stratton Porter, the novelist.

Lawyers Discuss Italo-Ethiopian Row and League

N. W. Rowell, K.C., Tells Canadian Bar Association Mussolini Will Think Twice About Going to War If League Takes Firm Stand—G. H. Montgomery Elected President

WINNIPEG, Aug. 30 (P.)—The menacing international situation was discussed today at the concluding session of the twenty-first annual convention of the Canadian Bar Association which heard N. W. Rowell, K.C., Toronto, declare his belief a firm stand by the League of Nations would make Premier Mussolini of Italy "think twice before going to war against Ethiopia."

The international situation was brought before the convention in a supplementary report on International Justice.

George H. Montgomery, K.C., Montreal, was elected president, and Mr. Justice H. H. Davis, Ottawa, of the Supreme Court of Canada, vice-president.

Raising the question of extension of the right to sue agencies of the crown, a report on comparative provincial legislation and law reform was submitted by C. Campbell McLaurin, K.C., of Calgary. Mr. McLaurin was reappointed chairman of the committee, which was asked to continue its work and make a further report to the next convention.

NO RESORT TO ARMS
"I think the nations in the League of Nations will honor their obligations, and Mr. Mussolini will think twice before starting a war," said Mr. Rowell in discussing the supplementary report of the committee on international justice. No resort to arms should be permitted, he said, after discussing the pros and cons of the Italy-Ethiopia dispute. The supplementary report, detailed treaties and covenants which were involved as a result of the Italy-Ethiopia dispute, and declared the situation was becoming increasingly tense. Consequences to the world of an actual resort to arms may be catastrophic, the report said, in the sense that it may include the destruction or profound modification of many of the institutions upon which civilization is based.

The last act of the convention was the passing of a resolution expressing appreciation of the work of Isaac Pitblado, K.C., Winnipeg, retiring president.

TORTS AND INDEMNITIES
Trend of British, French, Belgian and Canadian authorities and jurisprudence on the contentious question of whether or not the victim of a tort is entitled to benefit by a duplication of indemnities, was reviewed by Arthur Vallee, K.C., barrister of the Montreal bar.

The victim of a tort in Quebec is referred to as a delict or quasi-delict. Mr. Vallee said the main question was if the delict had already been indemnified by persons other than those responsible for the damage, should the courts take such indemnity into consideration when assessing compensation?

VIEWPOINT IN ENGLAND
After listing different views held in the matter in France and Belgium, Mr. Vallee said the Common Law of England looked at the question rather from the point of forcing the wrongdoer to make full reparation for his act than from the angle of actual loss suffered by the person injured. Canadian jurisprudence, after some fluctuation, following the same general tendency, he said.

It showed a strong tendency, also, to admit cumulation and duplication in all cases of insurance, save that of insurance of things which is strictly a contract of indemnity. Mr. Vallee submitted that the theory of cumulation or duplication cannot be applied in accident insurance cases without violating the fundamental principle of law—that reparation is due solely for damage caused.

Farmer Invites Citizens to Clam Bake but They Must Cut Some Hay

NETCORG, N.J., Aug. 30 (P.)—Bring your own beer and clam Sunday if you're going to Will Searles' farm at Long Valley for the big clam bake and a peek at the nudists. Will said today things were tough enough as it is without expecting him to furnish clams and beer.

And not even the peeks will be free. Will said his work has been put back so much by the legal fuss over the nudists that his hay is still uncut. To get in to the clam bake Sunday everybody will have to cut a few square yards of hay.

Will went to Morristown today to see his lawyer. He feels now that his hearing on peeing charges will never get started. He wants the hearing public; the nudists want it closed.

When they tried to hold a hearing yesterday, the public, headed by Mayor Thomas Kocak, protested so loudly and persistently that the proceedings were adjourned without date by Magistrate Louis M. Huyler.

Only the face was visible to visitors. The forehead and the right cheek were covered with bandages, giving her the appearance of a war nurse peacefully resting.

At the head of the bed an altar with a crucifix had been placed, while at the foot there was a smaller one. Black-robed nuns, this evening, took over the vigil in the hall which had been kept throughout the day by army officers.

Bugles shrilled "Aux Champs" ("Last Post") over the muffled roll of drums when Astrid's body was removed from the special train at 8:40 a.m. upon its arrival from Lucerne. A hearse drove the coffin to the palace through a sobbing, bare-headed crowd.

Contract Signed Without Battery Of Movie Cameras

GOVERNMENT arrangements to have the formal signing of the Fraser River toll bridge contract filmed for posterity in the presence of newspapermen fell through yesterday at the Legislative Buildings because newsworthy cameramen here were momentarily out of film. Premier Pattullo appended his signature to the contract, previously signed by the Dominion Bridge Company, in the immediate presence of Government officials.

But one who had an honest belief in the sincerity of the efforts being put forward by Mr. Stevens to help solve the problems of Canada. Mr. Tupman also spoke briefly and reminded the members of the club there was a real need for a spirit of co-operation. There was, he said, a real need for drastic change in the present-day system. He believed Mr. Stevens was sincere and a man who had the courage to carry through the work he had commenced. In offering himself as a candidate he believed he could, if elected, do something worth while for his fellow man.

Other speakers included E. C. B. Bussave, Rev. Dr. W. E. Daly and R. S. A. Jackson. The scrutineers for the election were J. R. Small, H. W. Rouse and R. G. Smith.

IMPORTANT ELECTION
Following the announcement of the result of the ballot Rev. E. F. Church spoke briefly. He said the election in October probably meant more to the people of Canada than any other election in history. The Stevens Party was gaining in all parts of the country, he said, and the people were doing their best to fight for the cause which, in his opinion, was a good one.

The meeting was concluded with the appointment of A. S. Averill as treasurer. Meetings will be held every Friday evening at headquarters, it was announced.

WAR GAME IS TOO REALISTIC

Italian Troops Practise Under Real Artillery Fire—Three Casualties

BOLZANO, Italy, Aug. 30 (P.)—Premier Mussolini's realistic war games proved just that today when one soldier was killed and two injured during manoeuvres under real artillery fire with 112 Duce and King Victor Emmanuel as spectators.

The soldiers were struck by fragments of a shell which exploded too near them as they charged up a hill under artillery fire. Mussolini immediately left the field to visit the injured men in hospital.

UNDER GENUINE FIRE
Projectiles whistled and ground over the heads of the distinguished spectators as many of the troops were given their first taste of advancing under genuine fire.

Up the slopes of an opposite hill struggled attacking regiments of infantry until they reached the final ridge of a mountain.

The shells struck in the heart of the theoretical defense and quickly gouged out "no man's land."

The infantry was too far away for spectators to see the fatal accident.

IS COMMITTED TO BUILDING BRIDGE

Water in the Fraser is too high to permit a start on the actual under-structure yet, Provincial engineers said.

The contract calls for erection of a steel traffic bridge, with concrete piers and understructure. On top of the general contract of $2,722,101, and financing charges, the Province will have to meet the cost of cement, said to be in excess of $200,000; the cost of lands desired at the approaches, for which $100,000 was allocated; and the cost of supervising engineering and agency fees, separately contracted for with other parties.

TO REMOVE BRIDGE
The cost of the bridge is to be recouped by tolls on those using it, when completed in about two years' time. Railways using the present free bridge over the river have been given formal notice to vacate such use within three years' time, when the present structure, the Government states, will be removed. The old bridge is carried on the Provincial balance sheet as an asset at $1,500,000.

The Province is financing the project in an arrangement with the Dominion Bridge Company, whereby the latter will buy new bridge bonds from the Government, up to the extent of $2,000,000.

BASIS OF ARRANGEMENT
Hon. John Hart, in reply to questions, said that the Dominion Bridge Company yesterday purchased the first $1,000,000 of the bridge bonds from the Government; and will follow this by purchase of the second million of the issue when the Province releases orders on the final unit of the work.

"One million of the issue has been taken up today, and the other million will be taken when work is authorized to start on the remaining units of the project," Mr. Hart said.

"The money is costing the Province 3½ per cent, the Dominion Bridge Company taking the bonds at par in Canadian funds. The issue will be for three years, dating from July 1, 1935, at 3½ per cent interest," Mr. Hart explained.

CANADA SILENT
OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (P.)—No formal opinion on the Italo-Ethiopian war has been given by the Canadian Government while negotiations looking toward a peaceful settlement continue. Prime Minister Bennett intimated today. When his attention had been called to a report from Canberra that the Australian Government had announced its opposition to invoking sanctions against aggressor nations under the League of Nations Covenant, Mr. Bennett gave out the following statement:

"In the event of a threat of war between members of the League of Nations the covenant provides machinery whereby steps can be taken to minimize and possibly prevent the threat resulting in active hostilities. The question of the application of sanctions does not arise until a member of the League resorts to war with another member of the League. Obviously as war has not been resorted to between Italy and Ethiopia, the actual question of sanctions has not arisen.

"So long as negotiations looking to a peaceful settlement of the differences between the two countries continue I regard it as my duty to refrain from expressing an opinion for publication."

BASIS OF ARRANGEMENT
Hon. John Hart, in reply to questions, said that the Dominion Bridge Company yesterday purchased the first $1,000,000 of the bridge bonds from the Government; and will follow this by purchase of the second million of the issue when the Province releases orders on the final unit of the work.

"One million of the issue has been taken up today, and the other million will be taken when work is authorized to start on the remaining units of the project," Mr. Hart said.

"The money is costing the Province 3½ per cent, the Dominion Bridge Company taking the bonds at par in Canadian funds. The issue will be for three years, dating from July 1, 1935, at 3½ per cent interest," Mr. Hart explained.

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (P.)—No formal opinion on the Italo-Ethiopian war has been given by the Canadian Government while negotiations looking toward a peaceful settlement continue. Prime Minister Bennett intimated today. When his attention had been called to a report from Canberra that the Australian Government had announced its opposition to invoking sanctions against aggressor nations under the League of Nations Covenant, Mr. Bennett gave out the following statement:

"In the event of a threat of war between members of the League of Nations the covenant provides machinery whereby steps can be taken to minimize and possibly prevent the threat resulting in active hostilities. The question of the application of sanctions does not arise until a member of the League resorts to war with another member of the League. Obviously as war has not been resorted to between Italy and Ethiopia, the actual question of sanctions has not arisen.

St. Andrew's Stone Holds Interesting Documents of 1868

Contents Turned Over to Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell and High Officers of Masonic Order—Papers and Coins in New Condition

A SOLEMN ceremony was observed in the office of J. L. Tait, managing director of The Daily Colonist, yesterday afternoon, when contents of the cornerstone of old St. Andrew's Church were turned over to the pastor of the present St. Andrew's Church and high officers of the Masonic Order. Present besides Mr. Tait were Rev. Lodge No. 64, Right Worshipful H. P. S. Luttrell, Right Worshipful Brother William H. Bland, Worshipful Brother Robert Smith, of Henderson, shipful Master Fred W. Barthol-meu and Worshipful Brother John R. Saunders, of Victoria Columbia Lodge No. 1.

Upon close examination a hermetically sealed cylinder within the square opening in the cornerstone was found to be composed of lead. It was badly corroded on the upper surface and showed signs of having been forced into the orifice. It measured eight inches long by four inches in diameter.

Tightly packed into the cylinder was a document giving the history of the foundation of St. Andrew's congregation here, a scroll recording the laying of the cornerstone, a leaflet dated September 5, 1867, giving the first annual report of St. Andrew's Church, a number of coins and seven newspapers, all in a perfect state of preservation.

PIONEER NEWSPAPERS

Newspapers were The Daily British Colonist, August 20, 1868; Weekly British Colonist, August 15; Weekly Morning News, August 16; British Columbian, of New Westminster, August 19; British Columbia Examiner, of Yale, August 17 and 19; Cariboo Sentinel, of Barkerville, August 9 and 12. All these sixty-seven-year-old papers were as fresh as the day they left the presses.

Coins in the cylinder were a sovereign, shilling, rupee, copper penny, bronze halfpenny, five-cent piece, nickel one-cent piece, two copper cents, half-real, of Chile; one Hong-kong cash, sixpenny piece, four-penny piece and a threepenny bit. They shone like new and were listed in a clear hand upon a small piece of blue foolscap.

Done in old English script in blue, gold and red letters, the imposing scroll was headed "Gloria in Excelsis Deo et in Terra Pax" which Mr. Luttrell translated as "Glory to God in the highest and peace on earth."

The rest of the document read: "In the thirty-second year of the reign of Queen Victoria, on August 20 in the Christian Era of 1868, the foundation stone of this church to be dedicated to the honor of God and His Holy Apostle Andrew was dedicated with all solemnity by the Provincial Grand Master of British Columbia, Israel Wood Powell, M.D., assisted by the official bearers of the Right Worshipful Grand Lodge in the presence of the Right Worshipful the District Grand Lodge of English Free Masons, Robert Burnaby, District Grand Master; daughter lodges of Scottish and English jurisdiction, citizens and others."

At the bottom appeared the names of Thomas Somerville, M.A., Presbyter, Provincial Grand Chaplain; Robert Wallace, chairman of the board of managers; H. O. Tiedeman, architect, and Hayward & Jenkins, contractors.

On the reverse side were officers of the Vancouver, Victoria, Cariboo, Caledonia, Nanaimo, British Columbia and Union Masonic Lodges.

HISTORY OF CHURCH
Text of the hand-written document giving St. Andrew's congregation history follows:

"In 1863 the colonial committee deputed the Rev. H. O. Tiedeman, M.A., to labor in British Columbia. Arriving in October of the same year, his services attracted a small but united congregation. Having assembled in the municipal council chamber, they resolved to build a church, and applied to the colonial committee for assistance.

"In May, 1864, the General Assembly, having regard to the peculiar position of their minister, H. O. Tiedeman, authorized the committee to use its best endeavors by procuring special subscriptions, to promote the building of a church at Victoria, on Vancouver Island, and heartily recommended this most important object to the liberality of the church at home.

"Immediately after this deliverance was passed, an unexpected movement was made towards the committee on the part of a congregation, worshipping in what was called the First Presbyterian Church in Victoria, to send their minister, H. O. Tiedeman, to the church of Scotland. This movement was met with all cordiality, and Rev. Thomas Somerville, M.A., assistant in St. James Church, Glasgow, having accepted a call, offered through the committee by the First Presbyterian congregation, arrived here in May, 1865.

CONGREGATIONS JOIN
"Mr. Nimmo at the same period having been removed to Canada and his congregation, and the committee by the colonial committee to amalgamate with the First Presbyterian, it was expected that the Presbyterians of Victoria would be moulded into one strong and harmonious congregation under Mr. Somerville.

"From May, 1865, till February 1866, when the annual meeting of the congregation took place, the church prospered so well that the debt on the building was nearly cleared. Groundless suspicions, however, had been entertained by a few that Mr. Somerville and his friends, instead of seeking the highest spiritual welfare of all, were seeking the particular good of the church of Scotland.

"At this annual meeting it was discovered that shortly before, the three individuals who had previously held the property by a temporary deed in fee simple, had, without consulting the congregation, changed it into a trust deed in favor of themselves, giving them very extensive powers over doctrine, discipline, minister and congregation, A. Rutherford, William Veitch, having signified their disapproval in explicit terms, consulted the colonial committee as to their course. With their approval, they withdrew from the First Presbyterian Church on September 5, 1866, and formed themselves into a congregation in connection with the church of Scotland. They assembled on Sunday, September 16, in the old gymnasium hall which had been secured and prepared for divine worship.

"On October 10 the congregation met, and the name St. Andrew's Church having been adopted, the following gentlemen were elected its managers: Robert Wallace, chairman; William Lawson, treasurer; James Burns, secretary, and I. G. Mackay, W. G. Bowman, James Muirhead, James Blisset, G. Pottinger, Alex. Munro, J. R. Stewart, D. Lindsay, W. Gibson and D. McLarn.

George Bernard, Confessing Theft, Has Complaint Against Police Officer

MOST WITNESSES. DENY CHARGES MADE

With his trial still to come for having possession of a safe and jewelry stolen from the home of D. O. Cameron, George Bernard pleaded guilty to having stolen a suit of clothes from the Jubilee Hospital when he broke away from that institution, and was sentenced by Police Magistrate Jay yesterday, to four months in jail.

The arrest of the accused Bernard in a basement in the Cloverdale district of Saanich, was carried out by Constable Thomas Stephenson, of the city police force, when he went single-handed to the place about 1 o'clock last Wednesday morning and brought the man to the city police headquarters.

The suggestion is made that the accused did not submit to his arrest peacefully but that he showed fight by using a piece of timber. The police officer was off duty at the time and was in plain clothes, but according to the evidence produced he took no chances of the accused getting away but covered him with his gun while he handcuffed him and took him to his car.

CHARGES ILL-TREATMENT
In the police court yesterday the time was taken up in large measure with the lifting out of a charge made by the accused that the police officer had ill-treated him and that the constable was intoxicated. The prisoner denied also that he showed fight when discovered in the basement. He also denied that he did not peacefully accompany the officer and represented that he was, in fact, a model prisoner.

Unfortunately for the accused his evidence in cross-examination by C. L. Harrison, the city prosecutor, showed that his memory is very defective with regard to his past record, that he is not above perverting, Bernard in a very frank way pretended to give his record in a criminal line, but, when faced with the official records it was shown that his story was far from the truth and decidedly in his own favor.

IRRELEVANT MATTER
The court pointed out that the evidence as to the actions of the police officer in making the arrest was irrelevant in connection with the case itself. He allowed it only in order to give the accused a chance to clear up the matter.

Of those who were at the police station when Constable Stephenson arrived with the accused, Sergt. S. Wilkinson, Detective B. Acreman, Acting-Sergt. J. Peterson, Constable P. E. Atkinson and Constable E. G. Sturrock all testified that there was nothing to indicate that Constable Stephenson was intoxicated. Detective William Stark, however, said that he had seen the officers who were outside had gone in the direction of the car. Constable Stephenson told Sergt. Wilkinson as the latter went toward the car, that he "could take care of him," meaning the prisoner he had, but the officers did not know who it was at that time.

DELIVERED HIS MAN
In crossing the street there appeared to have been a struggle when the two reached the middle of the street. Constable Stephenson, according to the other officers, got accused onto his feet. When they reached the charge office of the station, Constable Sturrock said that the officer seemed to be hustling the prisoner along. He appeared to have one hand on his coat and a hold of him with the other hand by the seat of the trousers.

As the officer pushed the accused into the charge room, Constable Sturrock said that Stephenson swore at the accused. The prisoner went to the floor as he was shoved in.

The witnesses all agreed that Constable Stephenson appeared to be "winded" when he got his man in. They said he was excited and exhausted.

Constable George Clayards testified that he was with Constable Stephenson about 12:45. There was no sign of intoxication at the time. Witness had driven him home about 1:45.

DISTURBED SLEEP
The accused offered evidence himself yesterday saying that utterly exhausted he had crawled into a basement in Saanich but he had no very correct idea where it was. He had found the door of the basement open. He had fallen asleep. Later he was awakened up by a flashlight shining in his eyes and a run pointed at him. The man was swearing and told him to get up or he would put a hole in him.

The accused said he got up and put on his clothes. He had taken for granted that the man was a police officer. The officer told him to proceed and followed with the run against the back of the accused. The latter said the officer knocked him down, and again a second time as they reached the car had knocked him down. He then put the handcuffs on him. Witness said that the officer's breath reeked of liquor.

The officer had said that witness had been the cause of his pal being fired and that he must do as he was told or he would shoot him like

WILL SERVE IN PENITENTIARY

Frank Stevens Must Spend Two Years in Prison for Forging Cheques

Frank Stevens, confessing himself as guilty of five charges of having obtained money by using forged cheques, will have to spend two years in the penitentiary. When the convicted man received his sentence yesterday he made a plea for cutting the sentence down by one day, which would have brought his enforced residence in confinement to service in the provincial jail, but Magistrate Jay refused to consider the request.

The magistrate imposed sentences of two years on each of the charges, the five terms to run concurrently. The accused said he realized the seriousness of the offences but he put forward the story that he was very drunk at the time and he did not know just what he was doing. He wanted to get a chance to make restitution, he said.

UNBELIEVABLE STORY
The magistrate pointed out that the circumstances did not bear out the plea of having been drunk. He had committed three forgeries on one day and had by small purchases secured the cashing of these cheques.

Before sentence the city prosecutor, C. L. Harrison, called attention to the record of the accused. Going back to 1920, he had been convicted of grand larceny in San Francisco. In 1921 his address was San Quentin prison. Then in 1928 and in 1930 he had answered to charges of theft and vagrancy, and in 1931 in the same city of San Francisco he had been up for attempted burglary.

In 1932 his operations were transferred to Portland, Ore., and he had been up on vagrancy charges and was now wanted there for forgery and larceny.

A boy was recently charged in London with stealing three pots of strawberry jam. We understand that he was caught red-handed.

NON-NEGOTIABLE SECURITIES

Under an Aberhart dispensation in Alberta and the putting into effect of his Social Credit scheme it may be presumed that the province need no longer look to the Dominion Government as its fairy godmother in times of stress. If Mr. Aberhart can pay a basic dividend—tentatively set at $25 a month—to every citizen he should not have to borrow from the Federal Exchequer. It is estimated that were it to represent real money the basic dividend in the aggregate would mean the payment by the Government of some $120,000,000 yearly to the citizens of Alberta. However, it will not be real money. Non-negotiable securities are to be used, and the backing for these is to be collected by a levy. These securities will be used for the purchase of goods and services. They are to be called non-negotiable because they will be only negotiable in Alberta.

Under Mr. Aberhart the Alberta Government itself, if he is to be believed, will pay wages and salaries in credit not in money. In other words it will pay non-negotiable certificates to its civil servants. If the Government is logical, of course, and if it plays the game, it will also be willing to collect taxes in non-negotiable certificates and then will arise the problem of where to get the real money to pay interest on its debts. The idea of non-negotiable certificates is to get around the fact that the province has no right to issue currency. That is a Federal right. The fact is that an Alberta currency is to be created. It must be designated as currency since it will be exchangeable for goods and services, that is provided those who have goods and services to sell will be willing to accept it. Moreover, if the plan can be put into operation and is not successfully challenged in the courts, then a difference in value between the Alberta credit dollar and the Canadian dollar will arise. The non-negotiable certificates will not be worth a cent outside Alberta. In a national sense they will be simply fictitious currency.

It is a well-established principle that bad money drives out good. The launching of non-negotiable securities will be inflation. There is no other word applicable. The basic dividend is to increase purchasing power in Alberta without relation to the fact that many of the articles to be purchased have to be brought into that province from the outside and paid for in real money. Those who have goods and services to sell will be engaging in a losing game if they accept non-negotiable securities. Trade and commerce, which is a matter of Dominion concern, will be interfered with; in fact Alberta can hardly escape court action through attempting to exercise powers which are ultra vires of the province. These considerations, however, do not stand in the way of Mr. Aberhart's promises. His promises won the election campaign and it remains for him to fulfill them.

General Jan Christian Smuts in speaking on democracy said: "Universal suffrage has not improved our type of legislation. While the growing intricacy of public questions makes politics an all-time job calling for great knowledge and devotion, the electorate not uncommonly choose the more shallow and showy type of amateur who can be most profuse in his promises."

CANADA'S TRADE GROWTH

Improvement in economic conditions in the country is shown by the fact that the index moved up from 99.3 per cent for the week ending August 3 to 101.6 per cent for the week ending August 10, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. These calculations are made on a base average of 100 per cent for the year 1926. The index for the week of August 10 was 7.7 per cent greater than for the corresponding week in 1934.

In July, Canada's imports were valued at $48,415,000 as compared with $44,144,000 for the same month in 1934 and $35,698,000 in 1933. For the twelve months ending on July 31 the Dominion's imports amounted to $530,738,000 as compared with $489,129,000 in 1933-1934, and as compared with $378,475,000 in 1932-1933. The country's domestic exports in July were $56,239,000 compared with $56,121,000 in 1934 and $51,345,000 in 1933. In twelve months ending July last the Dominion's domestic exports were valued at $664,036,000 compared with $620,091,000 in 1933-1934 and $486,128,000 in 1932-1933. During the twelve months ending in July the country's total trade was $1,204,069,000 compared with $1,116,046,000 in 1933-1934 and $870,621,000 in 1932-1933. Thus the increase in total trade in the course of two years has been $333,448,000, or 38 per cent. That spells progress. It shows the manner in which the clouds of depression are rolling away.

MATERIAL VERSUS MORAL EDUCATION

So far no succeeding generation has got beyond the experience of Professor Huxley in his desire to improve the lot of his less fortunate fellows through the medium of education. He enthusiastically joined a band of young scientists in giving working men a free course of lectures. He had many years' experience with these lectures, but as his life advanced the spirit of scepticism grew. Finally he expressed the conviction that most people have no interest in scientific truth for its own sake. What they are mainly concerned with is the endeavor to get through life with the maximum of pleasure and the minimum of pain. The conclusion he reached was that for world betterment it was not intellectual but moral education that is needed.

Few subjects have led to more prolonged discussion, more dogmatic pronouncements and greater differences of opinion than that of education. The impression is gaining ground that the benefits are limited to its immediate recipients; in other words, that a start has to be made afresh each generation. The previous education of the parents is not carried over to the child. Able parents have not necessarily able children. Where there is an hereditary bent in ability it is a case of it having been a fixed trait in the parent, independent of education, and inherited by the child just as the color of the hair or the shape of feature might be. A noted biologist, Professor E. W. McBride, advances the opinion that those of his scientific bent might be able to assist in solving the problem of education, that is if it is possible to accept the postulate that the basis of life in man and in the lowest creatures is essentially one and the same. If this were true, though it is debatable, it might be demonstrated that whatever is unique in man is based on a foundation of lower nature common to man and the other animals. On this basis the biologist perhaps could solve the problem of heritability of education. Experiments towards this end are being attempted.

Professor McBride, however, believes that the process of research will be painfully slow, and that it will take many generations to obtain any valuable result. The fact is that education has, in many respects, been devised on inadequate lines if it is to have permanency in results from generation to generation. It is moral education that is lacking, the teaching of perseverance and self-control, which Professor McBride believes is not an ephemeral barrier against brutish instincts but the "gradual establishment of a priceless heritage and a sure shield against the forces of decay." Material as opposed to moral education is largely the order of the day, and it is reflected in the expression of the human mind which is operating on too low a plane.

DISHONEST STATEMENTS

In one of his recent political addresses, Mr. Hepburn, the Premier of Ontario, said that in launching a recent provincial loan he had been "turned down" by the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks. He went on to say that he had confidence in the people and made an appeal to them and got the money. Mr. Hepburn has conveyed a completely false impression for political purposes. The facts are that his first offer of $15,000,000 in bonds did not obtain subscribers. Those bonds were offered in an unattractive way, the terms were regarded as inadequate, and the rate of interest insufficient. Mr. Hepburn realized this. He launched an issue of $20,000,000 on a new basis, with the attractiveness which should have marked the first issue. Then he obtained over $19,000,000 of the amount needed from the banks and other large financial institutions. Less than $1,000,000 came from the provincial savings banks and the people. What a pity it is that politicians seem so incapable of honesty in their declarations.

Mr. Mackenzie King has made a political issue of the Bank of Canada. He wants that bank to be run politically by whatever party may happen to be in power. In this respect he does not agree with Mr. Carter Glass, who says: "I have always entertained an unutterable contempt for any man who would bring politics into the consideration of banking legislation."

SLANG AND "AMERICANISMS"

Slang is many things; satisfaction of need, assertion of vigor, defiance of authority, friendly intimacy—most moods and situations and experiences produce some. English must not only borrow—when in its long history it did refuse to borrow—but it is becoming a basic duty for the Briton to get on close terms with the racy speech of America's plains and cities, or else how will he understand O. Henry and others, or follow Hollywood's flicks? "The English language," writes Mr. A. Lloyd James in a book we referred to some days ago, "is a very much more widespread language than the world has yet seen in its history, and the first thing the English-speaking people have to learn is that there are many good ways of speaking it."—Calcutta Statesman.

WHEN THE KING WAS SICK

A resident in London had to catch a train at Victoria Station. He started early, and told the taxi driver to go round by Buckingham Palace. We wanted to read the latest bulletin on the King's condition. The cab waited for an hour at the palace gates until the latest bulletin was posted up, and then drove to the station.

"Your meter is wrong," said the passenger, "I kept you waiting for an hour."

"Well," said the driver, "what's wrong with the meter? Isn't he my King as well as yours?"

—A story by Sir John Simon.

Minister of Health, Dr. W. W. Cross, Hanna.
Provincial Treasurer and Minister of Municipal Affairs, Charles Cockroft, Oxbow.

STUDYING FINANCES

At the same time that he announced his Cabinet, Aberhart would open an investigation into Alberta finances as soon as he takes over power next Tuesday. For the past day there have been disquieting reports of the liquid position of the Treasury.

ISSUES STATEMENT

Asked about the general condition of the Alberta Treasury, Aberhart made the following statement based on his investigations in Edmonton: "From a general survey, I have every reason to believe that a problem is before me. Upon careful analysis I am satisfied the new Government can bring the province to its feet. We are determined to maintain its credit and meet all obligations. I have been very much impressed with the fact that the people of the province and especially of the capital city (Edmonton) are cognizant of the difficulties that we must face, and their confidence in the new Government is very helpful and encouraging. Immediate steps will be taken to investigate the whole financial situation after we have been sworn in on Tuesday."

Mission Feature Of Summer Sands

Appearing in full canonicals—lawn sleeves, pectoral cross and signet ring—dignitaries of the Church of England have conducted on the sands of Blackpool, England, a preaching mission every Sunday for now thirty years. The meetings are dignified, but quite informal. The missionaries are reported in The Christian World as apostles of hand-shaking; in fact, were "good mixers." This open-air service is one of the attractive features of the Blackpool season.

POPULAR ARTIST HERE FROM EAST

Mme. Gertrude Huntly Delighted
To Be Back in Victoria—Will Open Local Concert Season

MME. GERTRUDE HUNTLY

Delighted to be in "beautiful Victoria" once more, Mme. Gertrude Huntly, better remembered locally as Mme. Gertrude Huntly Green, arrived here yesterday morning from St. Thomas, Ont., for a week's visit on the Island, during which she will open the local concert season with a pianoforte recital at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday, September 5.

Coming here from the East shortly before the war, Mme. Gertrude Huntly endeavored herself to the whole music-loving community and of 1926. Although she is sixteen or seventeen years' residence here, for the past three or four years she has been living in St. Thomas, where she has charge of the pianoforte classes at her former school, Alma College. She has also done a great deal of concert work in the East, on several occasions including two-piano numbers in her programs, the second pianist being her daughter, Miss Gertrude Green, who preceded her mother from Ontario a few weeks ago to spend a holiday on the Island.

Mme. Huntly traveled west via Chicago and Seattle, stopping off for a short visit in the latter city to discuss with Basil Cameron, well-known conductor of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra, plans for appearing as soloist with that organization some time in the early part of 1936. She is now en route back to Toronto immediately after her recital here next Thursday, and hopes to revisit Victoria when she returns to the Pacific Coast later in the winter.

WATERFRONT MEN CHANGE ATTITUDE

San Francisco Longshoremen and Employers Show Desire to Cooperate, Says Newspaperman

Although considerable nervousness was being experienced in San Francisco over the waterfront trouble that has continued since last summer, workers and employers appear to want to work together. J. G. Robinson, city editor of The San Francisco Chronicle, said last night at the Empress Hotel.

TOURIST TRAFFIC

Tourist traffic figures this year were almost equal to those of 1929, Mr. Robinson explained. The large influx of tourists to the Golden Gate city has meant much, and business conditions have improved greatly in recent months. Accompanied by Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Robinson arrived yesterday, plans to stay five days. From here the visitors will go to their homes in Scotland and had been a resident of this province for the last ten years and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Jean McLean, of 481 Swinford Avenue, Esquimalt, with whom she resides, and two sons, Peter and John, of Esquimalt; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at McCall Brothers' Funeral Home at 3:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Colwood Burial Park.

Safety First Is Urged by Police For School Days

Motorists, cyclists and children are being urged by Police Chief Thomas Heatley to exercise extreme caution with the opening of school next week. While parents are being requested to instruct their children in safety first, the chief expects motor-car and motorcycle drivers to reduce the speed of their machines to fifteen miles an hour when driving through school areas between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Children riding bicycles to and from school are warned to keep to the extreme right of the road and not to hang on to street cars or other vehicles.

Eighteen Months For Safe Breaker

VANCOUVER, Aug. 30 (AP)—Earl Collins pleaded guilty to six charges of breaking and entering and looting safes and was sentenced to eighteen months in jail by Police Magistrate I. S. Wood today. Collins was arrested when attempting to break into the safe of the Sterling Food Markets, Ltd. He confessed to five other similar offenses and said he obtained about $900 in all these robberies.

SEES PROPHECY IN FULFILLMENT

E. E. Richards Interprets
Scripture in Italo-Ethiopian Relations

With the emphatic statement that there can be no neutrality in the next war, E. E. Richards concluded an interesting summary of present-day fulfillment of Biblical prophecy, when speaking last night to a capacity audience in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

Dealing specially with the relations of Italy and Ethiopia, and using a series of interesting maps and photographs of the two countries to illustrate his material, Mr. Richards' argument was intended to demonstrate that the Bible was not a dead book, but a living one, and that the present disturbed state of the world, he occasionally made his interpretation explicit, as when he declared that the militaristic governments must pass away and be succeeded by the Kingdom of Christ. On the other hand he regretted that Britain, under the urge of idealistic propaganda, had allowed herself to lapse into a state of relative inactivity for war.

TWO PROPHECIES

Britain was fulfilling her destiny as a just and wise administrator. Two special instances were cited, both being fulfillment of prophecy. In 1882 prophecy was fulfilled when Britain took possession of Egypt, Sir Evelyn Baring being appointed administrator and bringing the country to a condition of prosperity and financial stability. Again, in 1917, Lord Allenby had entered Jerusalem and delivered the Holy Land from the Turks. This was the beginning of fulfillment of the prophecy made in Luke xxi, 24, but the final deliverance would not take place until September, 1936.

Italy, it was maintained, must not be allowed to take possession of Ethiopia. It would give her power to control the Nile which, in turn, is the very life of Egypt. Neither must Italy be permitted to further strengthen her position at the entrance to the Red Sea, which gives access to the Suez Canal. Great Britain, through the League of Nations, had control of this important gateway, another fulfillment of the prophecy that the seed of Abraham would have control of the gateways of the world.

TWO KINGDOMS

Although there might be individuals within the nation on the side of Satan, Britain was cited as being on the side of God in the speaker's vivid word picture of "The Two Kingdoms." God's Kingdom, which had been waiting down the ages, "When Britain came into possession of Eden she had proceeded to suppress the slave-traffic carried on by the Arabs in Ethiopia, just as she had brought benefits to Egypt when she went into that country."

In his comments on the lantern-slides of Ethiopia, Mr. Richards noted that the Ethiopian, contrary to the impression that George Bernard Shaw seemed, through his nationalist-united glasses, anxious to supply, were one of the oldest and most civilized people in the world. When the negroes of the United States a few years ago sent an address to the Ethiopian King on the occasion of his coronation, this had been returned with the proud assertion that the Ethiopian was not a negro. Pictures of Addis Ababa, Haile Selassie, some of the secondary kings, the Ethiopian soldiery, air force, treasured objects of art, and various other subjects, and joined the nearly 300 refugees who had fled from the ravages of the flood waters which had been sweeping over the country, taking no lives.

ETHIOPIAN AREA IS GIVEN TO SYNDICATE

The situation as a dramatic incident, Rickett said. When the Emperor saw that negotiations for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict had failed in Paris, with little hope of succeeding later at Geneva, he summoned Rickett from Egypt by telegram. There ensued five days and nights of almost continuous discussions, so secret that the negotiator invariably entered and left the palace by a secret back door. Only a few European officials and Everett Colson, the Emperor's American financial adviser, were in the know.

At midnight last night the Emperor was ready to sign his empire's first concession to a foreigner and first state paper in the English language. He did it at a modern pen-topped desk using a fountain pen, then caused the great seals to be affixed. The ink was not dry on the documents when 12 o'clock struck, conclusion having been reached. Many times the Victoria police department returns stolen articles shortly after they have been reported. This record was beaten yesterday when detectives showed fourteen gold and silver souvenir spoons to George E. Day, 424 Walton Street, as he was making out a report about their recent theft from his home. The spoons were recovered, police said, with the recent arrest of Harry Tivey, in Vancouver.

YOUNG STAR GAINS FINAL

Patty Berg to Meet Mrs. Glenna Vare for U.S. Golf Championship

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, a freckled-faced child of destiny with a magic putter, made one of the most stirring comebacks in the history of the National women's golf tournament today to join Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, five times titleholder from Philadelphia, in the final of the championship.

Before 4,000 near delirious home-town spectators, the little redhead, who took up golf only three years ago, dropped a twenty-five-foot uphill putt on the eighteenth green to square her match against Charlotte Glutting, of West Orange, N.J., and then went on to win one up, on the third extra hole. In the excitement, a galleryite, Maurice Bartholomew, fifty-five-year-old Minneapolis, dropped dead.

Patty will meet Mrs. Vare, the championship's queen of queens, in the thirty-six-hole final tomorrow. Mrs. Vare, on the other hand, herself after marriage and motherhood, swept aside another Minneapolis schoolgirl, eighteen-year-old Beatrice Barrett, 2 and 1, in another hard struggle, coming from behind on the first nine and winning with an assortment of beautiful irons that were unobtainable.

A FAMILY TIE UP

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Just to complete the record, it is true that Eddie Marshall, of Milwaukee, who smashed the consecutive-game hitting record of the American Association a few days ago, is a brother-in-law of Fred Fitzsimmons, New York Giants pitcher. Starting on June 15, Marshall went forty-three games in a row without missing a hit.

YAROSZ TO FIGHT

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30 (AP)—Teddy Yarosz, world's middleweight champion, and Babe Risko, a bronzed mauler from Syracuse, signed today for a championship fight in the Pittsburgh National League ball park, September 10.

SEATTLE, Aug. 30 (AP)—James Bailey, thirty-four, a negro, was shot to death tonight during a quarrel with another man at Angle Lake near here. Deputy Sheriff William Krueke and Tom Pratt arrested Harry Post, thirty-four, negro, who lived with Bailey.

Decorations Are Lovely At Wedding

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ledson, 1802 Hollywood Crescent, was the scene of a pretty wedding last evening when Rev. G. A. Reynolds officiated at the marriage of their eldest daughter, Doris, and Mr. Arthur Morson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Morson, of Courtenay. In the presence of relatives and intimate friends, pink and white featured the floral decorations throughout the house, interspersed with trailing greenery. During the service the bride and groom stood between white gateways decked with gladioli, snapdragons, sweet peas and anemones, inset with three white bells.

Mr. Oliver Stout played the wedding march, and as the register was being signed accompanied Mrs. Robert Macintosh, who sang a solo.

BRIDE AND HER SISTER

The bride wore a lovely floor-length gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a cowl neckline and full puff sleeves attached to tight cuffs of lace, and a veil of embroidered net arranged with orange blossoms.

Court Mourning For Late Queen To Be Observed

HIS Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, received word by telegram yesterday from the office of the Secretary of State, Ottawa, as follows: "His Majesty the King directs that court mourning be observed for the late Queen of the Belgians for one week commencing today."

At the nape of her neck and over each ear, and she carried a shower bouquet of roses and gardenias. Miss Evelyn Ledson was her sister's only attendant, dressed in a charming sleeveless frock of powder blue net, made very long, and finished at the neck with a deep frilled collar. She also wore a tulle hat to match, turned off her face, with a deep brim at the back trimmed with a ribbon bow, and long lace gloves, and she carried a bouquet of carnations and sweet peas.

The best man was Mr. Charles Caseleton.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception was held after the service. Mrs. Ledson wore a lace-trimmed gown of Marina blue crepe and a matching hat, and was assisted in receiving the guests by the groom's sister, Miss Dorothy Morson, who wore blue crepe in a lighter shade, and they both wore corsage bouquets of roses and sweet peas.

A Hawaiian orchestra played during the evening, and vocal solos were rendered by Mr. Harry Nan-carrow and Mrs. Macintosh. A three-tier cake centered the supper table, which was arranged with tall pink tapers and vases of tiny flowers in shades of pink and white. Mr. and Mrs. Morson left at midnight for Courtenay, where they will spend their honeymoon, the bride traveling in a smart blue tailleur, and on their return they will live on Walton Street.

Weddings

THORPE-HUDSON

A quiet wedding took place on Thursday, August 29, in the Metropolitan United Church Vestry, when Rev. J. H. A. Warr officiated at the marriage of Norah, eldest daughter of Mr. H. Hudson, 1010 Linden Avenue, to Mr. James Thorpe, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Thorpe, 3320 Tennyson Avenue.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, only immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe left later for a honeymoon trip to Calgary.

DEMPEY-ZELLINSKY

The wedding took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. G. A. Reynolds, Belmont Avenue, of Edith, youngest daughter of the late Captain P. Zellinsky, 783 Market Street, and of Mrs. Zellinsky, and Mr. Edmund Dempsey, second son of Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Dempsey, Douglas Street. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. P. P. Zellinsky, of Seattle, and wore a smart frock of York blue georgette, with a grey hat and matching accessories, and held a shower bouquet of roses. The bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Zellinsky, of Bamerton, were in attendance, the latter wearing a navy blue ensemble and hat en suite, and a corsage bouquet of bridal roses and sweet peas.

A small reception was held later at the home of the bride's mother.

Jane Dixon Says:

TO BE MARRIED TO ONE MAN WHILE YOU CHERISH THE IMAGE OF ANOTHER MAN IS TO BRING POIGNANT UNHAPPINESS UPON YOURSELF AND DISILLUSIONMENT TO YOUR HUSBAND

What's all this marriage-without-love business that is crowding in on my desk?

There seems to be an epidemic of it. For the benefit of all concerned, allow me to say once and for all that marriage without love has about a one-hundredth of one per cent chance for happiness.

Even this ratio may be an over-optimistic one. Those who wish to take such a chance are welcome to do so. Personally I believe it is too much of a gamble for reasonable persons to venture.

Dear Miss Dixon: A year ago I was engaged to the man I love. I still love him.

Two months before our wedding he unexpectedly broke our engagement.

When asked for an explanation, he gave only the flimsiest of excuses and refused to discuss the matter further. He told our friends that I had broken the engagement.

He lives in another town, and I have not seen him nor heard from him since, but I can't forget him. I have gone out with other fellows, but somehow I am always disappointed after a date, and feel that something is lacking.

Another man whom I have known for the past three months has asked me to marry him. I refused. I told him that I still love my former fiancé.

I wished to stop seeing this man after I had told him the truth, but he insists he will be satisfied just to be my friend, and that I may change my mind.

Should I accept his offer of marriage, even though I don't love him? I respect him very much and would try to make him happy.

How can I forget my former fiancé or should I forget him?—Weary.

DEAD LOVE REMAINS DEAD

Answer: The best way to forget the man who let you down without honest excuse is to call on your pride and your sense of fair play. Obviously, he does not love you.

Not loving you, your persistence in loving him could be nothing less than an annoyance to him, perhaps even offensive.

A dead love is dead, and nothing is more aggravating than to have the one toward which it was once directed poking around and fanning at the flame in the lost hope of reviving it.

He probably told your friends you had broken the engagement to save you the embarrassment of being jilted.

Naturally you can't be interested in other young men when you are harboring a ghost in your heart.

Drive the ghost out. Put it behind you.

About the other man who has asked you to marry him:

You behaved as an honorable woman should behave when you told him your heart was not yet free.

If he is willing to accept you on a friendship basis until such time as you may develop an emotional interest in him, he is sincere and worthy of your serious consideration.

Do not accept his offer of marriage, however, until you have driven that ghost from your heart.

You think you can make him happy, but ghosts play havoc in the best of honeymoon homes.

To be married to one man while you cherish the image of another man is to bring poignant unhappiness upon yourself and disillusionment to your husband.

Remember that the love you have for your ex-fiance is only a half-love. To be true and real, love must be mutual.

Starting Series Of Book Sermons

Rev. E. F. Church has chosen "The Enlargement of Life" for his morning meditation in Metropolitan United Church tomorrow. And for the evening service he has chosen to speak on "Yellow Briar: An Idyll of Old Ontario." This is the first of a series of monthly book sermons which will be given during the autumn term.

"Yellow Briar" is a story of Ontario farm life in the pioneer days, written by Patrick Slater, an Irish Roman Catholic, and in its pages is found an answer to an ancient question that is still troubling us, namely "Can Roman Catholics and Protestants live together in mutual love and understanding?"

The special music is as follows: Morning, anthem, "Praise the Lord"; "Mauder"; solo, "I Will Dwell in the House of the Lord" (Evil); Catherine Denison. Evening, anthem, "Comes at Times, a Stillness" (Woodward); solo, "Repent Ye" (Prindle-Scott); Wilma Sutherland, soloist from Edmonton.

STORMY LOVE

CHAPTER XXX

The admiral's wife had asked Val whether he was admiring the picture over the mantel of Jan's handsome ancestor.

Conversation around the room had subsided so that Lia's sweet, drawing voice carried to every corner when she replied, "I adore family portraits. There are some very interesting ones at Azalea Hall, my old home near Chahleson. My father is Stephen Garenne, the anthropologist, you know. Just now he is on an expedition into the Gobi. The Garennes have always been important and my mother's kin were noteworthy, too. My mother was a Fitz-James and her ancestor, the first who came to settle in the Colinas, was a real personage. He was a royal bastard, you know."

The unexpected word exploded like a firecracker beneath Mrs. Pomfret's conservative nose; her button eyes blinked once. Lia had every one's attention now and she made most of the smaller girl lifted an insolent little shoulder and drawled, "Tennis? But do you evah really have a chance to play in this disgusting place? For a whole week I've stared at rain falling into puddles, and gloomy old cedars waving in the wind. Really, I thought I should go mad. Not a soul," she gazed coldly at the group around the fireplace, "came near me in all that time."

"How can such things be?" Val heard Mrs. Cromwell murmur with a quizzical lift of one sandy eyebrow; he was to see both shoot up into exasperated curves when Lia went on—

"And then, after I'd been bored to distraction for days, Mrs. Norris had to return home and invite us to a perfectly gorgeous party to-night. Just our luck to have it come on the one evening we were engaged and couldn't accept. Sue gives such delightful dinners. I think, with the most unusual decorations, and her cook is simply inspired. Really a treat for us poor navy folk to see what heavenly things can be accomplished when one really has the opportunity to entertain in proper style."

Nora Cromwell grinned wickedly at Jan. "Take that and that, sweetheart," she said under her breath. A faint flush tinted Jan's cheeks, but she stood her ground. "The weather has been quite vile enough to make anyone hate the yard," she agreed, loyally. "And I understand perfectly how you dislike missing a good party. Lia. When engagements pile up with me, I am furious."

As Jan once more turned the conversation to safer channels Val's heart was filled with gratitude. It was darned nice of her to stick by Lia like this. He stared unhappily at his wife and thought she could not knowingly have made such a spectacle of herself. Surely she had been tactless rather than deliberately rude. As for the mention of the scandalous ancestor, he recalled that when Lia recounted the family history it was he himself who in the midst of hilarious young laughter had christened the first Fitz-James the royal bastard. That, however, had been in the privacy of his own home and before a gathering of critical strangers with whom the Prestons were on probation.

He wanted desperately to make up to Jan for Lia's bad manners. He spent the remainder of the evening exerting himself to be pleasant to her guests. They were, he found, mighty nice people, charming and friendly when you got to know them. Indeed, had it not been for the strain of keeping one watchful eye on his wife he would have had a thoroughly enjoyable time.

When the Prestons had said good night to their hostess and settled themselves in their car, Lia struggled against Val's arm to cry, "Ooh! I thought we should never get away from there, darling. Drive to Sue's like the wind. I'm simply burning for some real fun."

He was prepared for this. Lia must, he told himself, be made to understand she could not embarrass and humiliate him whenever she was denied her own way. From now on he was determined he should be master.

"We are not going to Sue's," he said emphatically.

"Why, honey? What's the matter?" Dismayed dark eyes were turned upon him.

As if she didn't know! His indignation burst its bonds. She had, he told her, been rude to her hostess, acted like a spoiled brat at dinner and had pulled that stupid line about her shady ancestor. To cap the climax, though they were honor guests and she knew perfectly well it was only good manners to postpone their departure until the admiral and other seniors had made a move to go, she had let everyone hear her continual nagging whispers that he shove off for the Norries.

In the dashlight's dim glow he saw her red mouth pull down into a doleful curve. Suddenly she put her head against his arm and broke into low sobs. No matter how hard she tried, she couldn't remember all their silly old conversations, she murmured unhappily. Perhaps she was not adept in social amenities, but, shut away in a garden most of her life, what chance had she had? Now he was angry; he said she had disgraced him. And she was utterly m-l-s-e-r-a-b-l-e—

No use. He couldn't hold out against her tears. He stopped the car abruptly and slid from beneath the wheel to lift her up in his arms. "There, there, honey. I'm sorry," he whispered against her wet cheek. "I shouldn't have scolded the poor baby."

She hadn't meant any harm. She had been tactless because she hadn't stopped to think. Even as he argued with himself, he knew he was beaten. She stopped weeping only when he started the car and set out for the Norries.

Then in no time at all she nestled against his shoulder to sigh softly. He himself felt like sighing. She had defeated him, turned him aside from his purpose. However, there was bound to be plenty of good liquor at Brad's. Sue always saw to that. And Lord, how Preston could use a few drinks!

On a late afternoon, a few days after Brad Norris' return from his business trip, Val received an unexpected visit from his friend, Dyer. He had gone out, so that the two were alone in the office, and as they sat talking of inconsequential things Val noted Brad's nervous, uncertain manner and was convinced anew there was something he wanted to confide.

Could it be Sue he was worried about? There, had been. Val had noted, a disturbing change in her lately. She drank too much and her former lush beauty was showing blight. On occasion when an occasion he had marked a defiant, almost hysterical, quality in her actions. On the night of that last party he had glimpsed her face when she deliberately jerked loose the electric connection from the radio. She had said it was an accident, but Val knew better. Cordray, too, had been aware of her ugly mood. When the music was interrupted he had been dancing with Lia and the black look he had flung his employee's wife shouted his exasperation.

GALL STONES ARE COMMON, BUT SHOULD NOT BE DISREGARDED

When we remember that about one person in every ten has gall stones, and then remember further how few ever have them removed, it is only natural that we should think of them as not a serious matter at all. Now it would be just as big a mistake to worry about gall stones as it would be to forget all about them should any pain or other symptoms occur on the left upper side of the abdomen. When the gall bladder begins to give trouble there is likely to be a dull pain in the region of the liver, below the right breast, but no real sharp or severe pain usually occurs unless the gall stone has left the gall bladder and entered the tube leading away from it, or if the gall stones have set up an inflammation in the gall bladder and tubes adjoining it. When gall stones are suspected of causing pain or distress, in this region, the use of a dye (taken by the mouth or inserted into a vein) and the X-ray will show up the gall bladder, as to whether it is in good condition and emptying the bile regularly or not. This method is now so accurate that whether to operate or not to operate is often decided by this test. When there is inflammation or when the stones are interfering with the ability of the gall bladder to empty itself, the emptying time may be many times slower than it should be, and the operation is done. On the other hand, there may be stones present and yet the gall bladder is able to empty itself within the normal time, and the surgeon feels no need to operate. When gall stones are present or suspected but operation is not considered necessary, a few simple rules may prevent attacks of gall stone colic and possibly an operation. The meals should be small, because a big meal, just because it is big, may bring on an attack. A diet that is rich in fats—butter, cream, fat meats, egg yolks—must be strictly avoided. A diet that causes beans, sauerkraut, peas, mayonnaise, salads and raw fruit. The thought, then, is that while gall stones are common and give no trouble to the great majority of cases, when their presence is suspected, due to symptoms, the above points should be kept in mind.

Around the campfire up in the Minnesota wilds a group of visiting fishermen were resting after a long hard day among the bass and pickerel. One of the guides had just arrived from the nearest town, fifteen miles away, with a two-days-old jury found him guilty of murder in the first degree. But then they recognized their pipes and slapped at the commendation to the mercy of the court. I wonder why they did that? One of the listeners spoke up: "Probably on the ground that the poor boy was an orphan."

"Fiction" could not survive without matrimony. And, conversely, matrimony can't get along without fiction.

KUNES TAKES SIX-STROKE LEAD IN OPEN GOLF

Pair of Calgary Golfers in Final At Banff Tourney

Johnny Chaston and Billy Hudson Gain Last Bracket in Prince of Wales Trophy Competition—Former Goes to Twentieth Hole—Mrs. Cuppage Beaten in Women's Meet BANFF, Alta., Aug. 30.—Two youthful Calgary golfers, Johnny Chaston, of the Golf and Country Club, and Billy Hudson, of the Earl Grey Club, will meet tomorrow in the thirty-six-hole final of the Prince of Wales trophy competition, feature event of the annual golf week at the Banff Springs Hotel course. Hudson defeated H. Booth, of the Calgary Earl Grey Club, by 5 and 4, after taking a good lead at the start, being five up at the eighth. Chaston had to go to the twentieth hole before being able to vanquish Gordon McWilliams, of the Calgary Bowness Club, a former Alberta champion.

Billy Hudson is the favorite to win the championship as he has played the most consistent golf of the tournament. He shot two rounds of 74 on Friday, those scores being only three over par and far better than any of the other semi-finalists. In the afternoon round, which was played out although Hudson won on the fourteenth, he had sixteen pars and two birdies.

ENTRA-HOLE MATCH

The Chaston-McWilliams semi-final attracted a large gallery for the last few holes. McWilliams, unsteady in the early play, rallied strongly after being three down at the eleventh to square the match at the sixteenth with a brace of pars and birdies. He won the seventeenth with a par three when Chaston got into difficulties in a bunker near the green and picked up his ball. Chaston came back with a birdie three at the eighteenth to send the match into extra play. At the nineteenth they were both on in three and their long puts stopped within six feet. Both missed but McWilliams held out for a final although partially stymied. At the twentieth McWilliams conceded the match when his two foot put stopped on the lip of the cup with Chaston's ball lying only a foot away. In the men's driving from the high championship tee accuracy won for T. Mason, of Edmonton, the only man to get three within the lines 150 yards across the river. His yardage was 228, 207 and 219, total 655. W. Hudson, of Calgary, was second with two good drives, 270, the best of the day, and 259. Miss Dorothy Clemens, of New York, won the women's driving contest, her yardage being 208, 158 and 129, total 495. Coming second, Mrs. E. W. Cuppage, of Victoria, had 158, 156 and 125, total 439. Mrs. H. V. Craig, of Kelowna, was close with 422 and Mrs. T. J. Gray, of Calgary, had two nice drives of 202 and 196 yards but failed to get the other within the lines.

VICTORIAN BEATEN

Scores in the semi-finals of the Brewster Cup championship flight were: Mrs. T. J. Gray, Calgary, won 2-1 over Miss Pat Arnold, Calgary; Miss Dorothy Clemens, New York, won 3-2 over Mrs. E. W. Cuppage, Victoria.

Results in the semi-finals of the Prince of Wales Trophy flights were: First flight: J. Struthers, Calgary, 4-2, W. Cathcart, Victoria; S. Graham, Calgary, 3-2, J. Hill, Calgary. Second flight: T. Hamblin, Lethbridge, 3-2, S. South, Turner Valley, Alta.; P. Lewis, Vancouver, 5-4, C. Latham, Calgary.

In the semi-finals of the Prince of Wales Cup consolation, D. Crosby, Banff, won 3-2 over R. C. Carlyle, Calgary; S. Van Aalst, Calgary, won 2-1 over E. R. Bannatyne, Calgary. The finals in the Brewster Cup flight will be played tomorrow between Mrs. C. G. Child, Banff, and Mrs. T. H. Lonsdale, Banff.

SEVENTEEN TO START TODAY IN BIG RACE

Ranking Two-Year-Olds to Run in Grand Finale at Saratoga Track

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y., Aug. 30.—The ranking two-year-olds of the turf, minus one, will attempt to get some place in their argument over the championship tomorrow when seventeen of them clash in the thirty-first running of the Hopeful, the grand finale of the Saratoga meeting.

Only the absence of Grand Slam, winner in the Arlington Futurity and leading money winner of the division, will prevent the winner from claiming the juvenile title—at least until the renewal of the $100,000 Futurity at Belmont in October.

Included in the field are the juveniles, which have been whipping each other in the Spa's rich preliminary stakes with almost every shift in weights. The Fighter, Sangreal, Coldstream, Red Rain, White Cockade and Bold Venture—all are entered in what is figured to be a wide open betting race.

DERBYSHIRE IN SECOND BERTH

Holds Runner-Up Position in County Cricket as Play Continues

LONDON, Aug. 30.—The county cricket season almost at an end, Derbyshire today was established in second position in the championship competition behind Yorkshire, who made certain of leadership honors a week ago.

The scores: Middlesex, 307 and 169 for eight wickets, declared; Surrey, 120 and 141 for six.

Sussex, 274 and 121 (Boxer four for 49); Yorkshire, 220 and 275 for six, declared (Gunn 147 not out); Essex, 245 and 108 for two.

CRAPPE TO DRAW

Bill Stein and Alec Gardiner, colorful 130-pound scrappers, wrestled four fast rounds to a one-fall draw. Stein pinned Gardiner in the third round for the first fall of the match, only to have his opponent come back and square the bout in the last round.

"Scotty" Sinnott and Jimmy Fover appeared in a three-round match billed as a grudge affair, and the way the boys went at it was not just according to the best of wrestling etiquette. The bout ended all square, no falls, but it was not for the want of trying that no falls were gained. The lads, out on a great show and the many of whom left their seats in the excitement, went for a real bang out of the match. A return bout may be sought.

Wrestling at 135 pounds, Al Gardner, the third man in the "Lace" Hay went four rounds to a one-fall draw.

Results of recent fixtures played by teams in the Greater Victoria Horseshoe Pitching Association follow:

Pioneer "A" 201, Jackson's "A" 135. Rennie & Taylor 206, Oaklands 130.

Pioneer "A" 200, MacLeod's 155. Rennie & Taylor 202, Jackson's "A" 153.

Double victories by Pioneer and Rennie & Taylor squads proved the feature of the day. Pioneer, J. Keating, of the Rennie & Taylor squad, turned in two excellent exhibitions, tossing twenty-three ringers in the first game and thirty-six in the second fixture. Morrison, of the Pioneers, made twenty perfect throws in the fixture against Jackson's "A" and C. Fraser, a member of the losing squad, went one better. C. Gorch had twenty-five ringers for MacLeod's Garage.

Other interesting scores were: Cockrell, Pioneers, 20; A. McDonald, Oaklands, 13; J. McMillan, Oaklands, 12; M. McKenzie, Jackson's "A", 21; McKenney, Pioneer "A", 22; Cockrell, Pioneers, 17; C. Fraser, Jackson's "A", 19; W. Jackson, Jackson's "A", 15; A. McMillan, Jackson's, 13; McDonald, Rennie & Taylor, 14; J. Maxwell, Rennie & Taylor, 14.

New Dominion Football Champions

Montreal Alouettes defeated Nanaimo for the Dominion football championship at Carruthers Park, Winnipeg, winning the final game by a 1-0 score. A group photo of the new champions is shown above. Reading from left to right, front row: G. White, C. Fitzpatrick, L. Bardell, L. Fitzpatrick, T. McIntosh, A. Bejshak, P. Fallon. Back row: J. Rennie (trainer), P. Keir (player-manager), R. Low, A. Fitzpatrick, J. Nelson, B. Lumsden, R. Campbell, D. McLean.

Bumper Crowd Witnesses Bouts at Mount Stephen

Standing room was at a premium scored a one-fall victory over Young

Dee Sarpolis after a fine exhibition of the bone-bending pastime. The fall came in the second round.

SCORES TECHNICAL K.O.

Fighting at seventy-five pounds, Dickie Reid, promising young glove-thrower, scored a technical knock-out over George Gauthier in the second round of their scheduled three-round mix. Louis Callan, the referee, stopped the mix to save Gauthier from further punishment.

Ken Earl and Jerry Wilson swapped punches for three fast rounds, and the bout was called a draw. Jimmy Lel and Billy Thorburn, eighty-pound glove-throwers, battled like champions in their mix, and it was so close at the finish that the officials called it even.

Louis Callan, popular match-maker, was the third man in the ring for all bouts. It was announced that another mixed card will be held next Friday evening.

ARCADÉ ALLEYS TO OPEN TODAY

Fort Street Bowling Centre Will Open Its Doors at Noon

After undergoing complete renovation throughout, the Arcade Alloys, Fort Street, popular center for bowling, will open its doors for the 1935-36 season's play today at noon.

During the summer months, workmen have been busy resurfacing the alleys and repainting the building to make the place attractive and comfortable for the coming season. The management has spared no expense in preparing the alleys for what promises to be another successful season.

In addition to the renovation work that has been carried out, new pins for fifteen and tenpin fixtures have been purchased.

Leagues operated on the Arcade Alloys last season and with increased activity in trundling, it is expected that still more leagues will operate during the 1935-36 season.

After today's opening the alleys will be open from noon to midnight daily, except Sundays.

Strawberry Vale To Battle Maple Leafs Tomorrow

BURNABIE Maple Leafs

First-half champions, and Strawberry Vale, second-half titleholders, will clash tomorrow at Hampton Road in a twin bill for the championship of the Seaside Softball League. The morning game will start at 10 o'clock and the afternoon fixture at 3 o'clock. If a third game is necessary, it will be played on Labor Day commencing at 10 o'clock.

With two championship aggregations in action, the playoff series for the suburban loop title should be keenly contested.

BIG ADVANTAGE

Kunes will start the stretch drive six strokes ahead of Horton Smith, the "Joplin Ghost" from Oak Park, Ill.; Paul Runyan, biggest money-winner in United States golf last year; Tony Manero, Sedgefield, N.C., winner of the General Brock open tournament last month, and the surprising Lou Cumming, Toronto professional.

Another stroke in arrears, with thirty-six-hole totals of 145, were such stars as Walter Hagen, of Detroit; Jimmy Hines, of Garden City, N.Y.; Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N.J.; Al Watrous, Oakland Hills, Mich.; Bobby Burns, Montreal professional; Arthur Hulbert, retired Toronto pro, and Gordon B. Taylor, Montreal, 1932 Canadian amateur titleholder.

An original field of about 135 was reduced to sixty-four tonight, only those scoring 154 or better for the two days, qualifying for the two eighteen-hole rounds tomorrow. Not a single favorite was outside the qualifying line.

Spectacular with his short irons, Kunes broke into the lead on the par-25 outgoing nine holes. He got underway at the second green, dropping an eight-foot putt for a birdie three. He was over par on the fifth but came back with birdies at the sixth and seventh.

The incoming nine was easy for Kunes until he reached the seventh. A five on that par-4 hole prevented him from scoring 67. His second putt stopped a fraction of an inch from the cup.

Kunes' sub-par round, first of the tournament, was followed by four more. Gordon B. Taylor, Montreal's ranking amateur, sank a 125-yard approach shot for a 69. Taylor led all amateurs at the half-way point with his total of 145, two less than that of Sandy Somerville, London, Ont., Canadian amateur champion.

Julius Huot, of Kent, Quebec, still regarded as Canada's best hope of winning a title that has been held in the United States ever since the war, would have been at least three strokes better than his 74 had he kept clear of sand trouble.

Scores follow:
Arthur Hulbert, Thornhill, Ont., 72-73-145.
Jimmy Hines, Garden City, N.Y., 70-75-145.
Gene Kunes, Norristown, Pa., 70-68-138.

Golf Puzler—W. F. Webber, at the Sunningdale Club, Toledo, Ohio, scored a five on a 425-yard hole although he was never in the fairway, was never in the rough, and escaped all sand traps. In teeing off on No. ten tee, he hooked the ball over onto No. twelve putting green, about 150 yards distant. Next he sliced over to No. one green, missing fairway and rough entirely. From there he landed square on No. ten green, his original objective, and took two putts for a five.

FISHERMEN LAND MANY BIG ONES

Twenty fine salmon ranging in weight from thirty-five to eighteen pounds, is a good catch for a day's fishing, but when they are caught between daybreak and 8 o'clock in the morning, that's something like a record. Wall's exactly what Wallace MacMillan, Winnipeg, Roger Monteth, Stan Gill, Henry Dalby and Newton Smith, Victoria fishermen, did Thursday morning at Brentwood.

LANDS BIG ONES
Stan Gill had the good fortune to land the thirty-five pounder, and the visitor from Winnipeg caught a twenty-one-pounder to gain a bronze button presented by the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association for landing a fish of this size.

The remainder of the catch averaged between twenty and eighteen pounds. Eight of the biggest fish were placed in front of Roger Monteth's fishing tackle store, View Street, and many passers-by stopped to admire the fine catch.

Pittsburgh Takes Easy Decision to Tighten Up Chase

Fourth Place Bucs Pull Up Within Six Games of Leaders—Idle Giants Only Game Behind—Rain Interferes With Scheduled Fixtures—Tigers Halted by Lowly St. Louis Browns, 8-7

LLOYD WANER

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30 (AP).—The bold bad Buccaneers of Pittsburgh again outplayed the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals today, shooting them back to fourth place with a fourteen-hit attack to win their ninth straight victory, 9-3. The triumph put the fourth-place Pirates only six games behind the pace-setters, whose margin over the idle New York Giants was reduced to a single game with their second loss here.

However, the Pittsburgh victory proved costly in more ways than one as Lloyd Waner, fleet-footed centre-fielder and a hard hitter at times, was injured as he slid into the plate in the first inning. Although hurt as he hit the plate, Waner scored the Pirates' opening run. Waner's spikes against the ground and he was believed to have torn a ligament in his left knee, probably will be lost to the team for several days.

Batteries—Hallahan, P. Collins and Davis; Lucas and Padden.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30 (AP).—While the rest of the American League idled, the St. Louis Browns upset league-leading Detroit, 8-7, by stopping a belated Tiger drive after sinking a late inning rally of their own.

JUNIOR TENNIS CHAMPS NAMED

Annual Championship Meet At Victoria Club Courts Is Concluded

Junior net champions of Victoria and district were named yesterday at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club courts, as the annual championship tournament, in progress for four days, drew to a close. The budding stars of the local net world displayed some excellent tennis, and their ability and style of play augurs well for the future of the net game in this city.

Four finals were played, and in two of the matches extra sets were needed to decide the new title-holders. Following the close of play the handsome trophies were presented by the Rev. S. Ryall, vicar of the cathedral and popular member of the Victoria Club.

THREE-SET MATCH
Maurice Johnston, First United Tennis Club, captured the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Cup, symbolic of the under eighteen boys' title, by defeating W. R. Osborne, of the home club, in a three-set fixture, 3-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Pauline Hayes and Cynthia Musgrave, Victoria Lawn Tennis Club players, battled it out in the final of the girls under eighteen with victory going to the former in straight sets, 7-5, 7-5. The win gave Miss Hayes possession of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Cup for the next twelve months.

WINN POOLEY CUP
Playing steady tennis all the way, Oswald Hincks, young Langford, better, won the Pooley Cup, emblematic of the boys' under sixteen championship, when he defeated John McPherson, Hollywood Club, 6-4, 6-3.

Defeated in the under eighteen final, Cynthia Hayes, promising Victoria Club player, came through to victory in the under sixteen final after an extra-set match with Paula Jones, budding net star from Metelchou. The scores were 6-0, 3-6, 6-3.

C. Hugo Raymond, well-known local tennis official, was in charge of the tournament.

Former Champion and Daughter

DOESN'T little Joan, daughter of Jack and Hannah Dempsey, look like her famous dad? The picture was snapped in Chicago recently.

After walking off with the league series and gaining the bye in the post-season play-downs, the Eagles, forced into idleness while the preliminary play-offs between the Sons of Canada and the Tillamooks were in progress, played ragged ball in the championship series.

Eagles took the lead in the first inning of last night's final by scoring a lone marker. They added another run in the second frame when they bunched two of their four hits secured from the slants of young Alec Dick, but their score finished right there. For the remaining three innings, Dick, allowing but one hit, pitched shut-out ball.

SONS EVEN SCORE
Sons of Canada brought their big runs into action for the first time in their half of the second inning and drove across two markers to even the score at two-all. The third inning was scoreless. In the fourth the Canadians got to Providence for two successive bingles and he was yanked in favor of Louis Leonard, young recruit hurler from the Juvenile League.

Leonard took up the heavy duties with the score 3-2 against him and two men on the bags. He got away to a bad start by hitting Dick, and then Scouler came up and laced a screaming drive through the first base and went two runners scampering across the plate to give the Sons of Canada a 5-2 victory. The fixture was called in the first half of the uncompleted sixth frame with the Eagles at bat.

Sons of Canada picked Providence for six safeties during his three innings on the slab. He fanned two, Leonard worked for two unliners. He allowed one hit and struck out two, yanked four bingles in the five innings and breezed five.

SONS CAPTURE SENIOR BALL LOOP HONORS

Canadians Checked In With 5-2 Victory Over Eagles In Final Game

REPEATING the Eagles, 5-2, yesterday evening at the Royal Athletic Park, in the fourth game of the Victoria Senior Baseball League play-offs, Manager Tommy Restell's Sons of Canada ballplayers captured the A. E. Humphries Cup, symbol of the league championship. The Canadians won the series three games to one, scoring victories in the first, second and fourth encounters. Eagles, undefeated in the regular schedule, took the third tussle.

Sons of Canada played smart ball in the field behind the four-hit twirling of Alec Dick, young right-hander. On the offensive the Canadians punched out seven base knocks from the offerings of Jimmy Proudlove and Louis Leonard, pair of Eagles' hurlers.

Brunsdon's Boys Will Play Today In B.C. Series

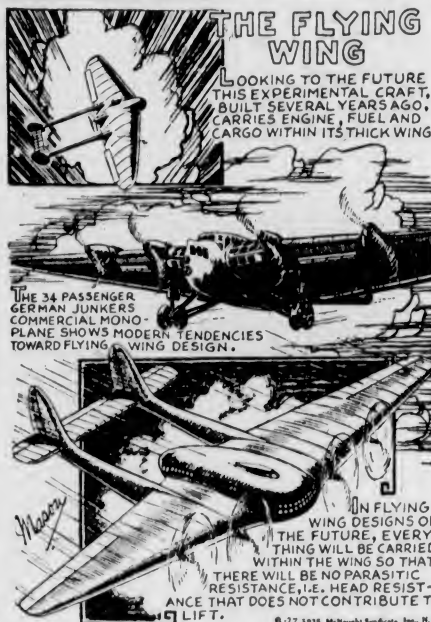

OFF to compete in the British Columbia softball championships, Brunsdon's Boys, Vancouver Island title-holders, left on last night's boat for the Mainland. Today, at the Athletic Park, they will meet Jones' Boys in a twin bill. The first game will start at 2:30 o'clock and the second at 6 o'clock. The locals will be at full strength for the series and feel confident of taking the measure of the Mainland champions. If a third game is necessary, it will be played here Monday.

Will tackle an all-star aggregation Monday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, in an exhibition fixture billed to start at 2:30 o'clock. The All-Stars will trot out a strong club in hopes of turning back the heavy artillery into action and drove over four runs, three of these when "Porky" Andrews smashed out a circuit clout to deep left field with two men on the cushions. They added two runs in the sixth and ended their scoring in the seventh by sending one man the distance.

Painter's scored one run in the first frame and the chauli-store boys came right back and tied the score. The fuelmen scored again in the second frame and from then on were never headed. In the third inning the Bruins brought their heavy artillery into action and drove over four runs, three of these when "Porky" Andrews smashed out a circuit clout to deep left field with two men on the cushions. They added two runs in the sixth and ended their scoring in the seventh by sending one man the distance.

THE 34-PASSENGER GERMAN JUNKERS COMMERCIAL MONO-PLANE SHOWS MODERN TENDENCIES TOWARD FLYING-WING DESIGN.

IN FLYING-WING DESIGNS OF THE FUTURE, EVERYTHING WILL BE CARRIED WITHIN THE WING SO THAT THERE WILL BE NO PARASITIC RESISTANCE, I.E. HEAD RESISTANCE THAT DOES NOT CONTRIBUTE TO LIFT.

DESIGNERS for years have toyed with the idea of the flying wing—an aircraft where everything is carried within the wing. To date airplanes have been too small to justify the true flying wing, for it must be thick enough for passengers and crew to stand erect and move about. Hence the wing would have to be about ten feet thick at its centre, tapering off towards the tips. Such a thickness would demand a wing span of over 250 feet. An airplane of such size is not yet commercially feasible. The German Junkers G-38 is the nearest existing approach to the

WHY IS IT CALLED "THE GAZETTE?"

Today Gazette is almost always the name of a newspaper—metropolitan or suburban, daily or weekly, but the name of a newspaper is what it is, generally. It was not, however, always so.

The word Gazette is derived from the Italian gazetta. This was a Venetian coin of insignificant value—equivalent possibly to half a cent of our money.

For this coin could be purchased a copy of the periodical purporting to be a newspaper, which was first published in Venice about the middle of the sixteenth century. In 1800, the word Gazette became the generic term for the newspaper itself. That this early publication was not so highly regarded is indicated in a contemporaneous characterization of it as being "running reports, daily news, idle intelligences or film flim tales that are daily written from Italy, namely, from Rome and Venice."

Laid to His Rest With Full Honors

PARKSVILLE, Aug. 30.—The memory of a well-known and highly-respected resident of Errington, B.C., E. J. Peary, who died on Tuesday at his home there, was honored on Thursday when funeral services were held in St. Mary's Anglican Church with full Masonic honors. In the presence of relatives and a large number of friends.

After a touching and impressive ceremony conducted by the Rev. G. A. Bagshaw, interment took place in St. Mary's Cemetery. Pallbearers carrying the flag-draped coffin into the church were Fred Aiken, Arthur S. Barfoot, Alex Constantine, George Buttery, M. Wilcock and David Maxwell, and those to the graveside were Brother A. S. Barfoot, Brother F. Aiken, Brother John Britton, Brother Allan Ford, Brother A. Constantine and Brother George Buttery. A guard of honor composed of war veterans formed two ranks on either side of the entrance to the church. The Masonic last rites of the Concord Lodge No. 79, A.F. & A.M., of which the deceased was a valued member, took place at the graveside.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"
If August 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 1 to 3 p.m. and from 5 to 7 p.m.

The wise man, or woman, will try first to approximate the cost of entertaining this day before plunging blindly into it. Embarrassment can be caused by reckless expenditures, so be considerate not only of your own pocketbook, but also of your friend's. Recklessness will possibly be a pernicious influence to be reckoned this day, as guard against anything bordering on it. An auspicious day for expressing sentimental thoughts, presenting gifts, social activities and diversified entertainment. This day probably will see a happy reunion with old friends or relatives, terminating in much pleasure. Married and engaged couples, and those about to make a declaration of love, should be very circumspect in their dealings with comparative strangers, especially of the opposite sex, so as to avoid arousing any unjustifiable suspicion.

If a woman and August 31 is your birthday, you are full of the joy of living, delighting in amusements of all sorts, especially the terpsichorean art. Graceful and probably very light on your feet, you should be a very good dancer. Music has possibly a strong appeal. You are rather inclined to be extremely punctilious with strangers. It might be advisable not to be too cool when meeting people for the first time, but display animation and friendliness. Artistic, you may win a name if you apply the right amount of application to the study of interior decorating, singing, professional dancing, acting or work of an educational nature. Many blessings may come to you through marriage.

The child born on August 31 may, by the time it reaches its teens, give evidence of being gifted in either an artistic or literary way. It should be encouraged and helped in every way possible.

If a man and August 31 is your natal day, you are probably instinctively good-natured, but may at times conceal it by an assumption of severity, which is likely to prove a mistake. Politics, law, teaching, lecturing, preaching, acting and specialized selling are vocational lines in which you might accomplish a great deal.

SCOUT COMMITTEE MEETING
The regular monthly meeting of the Third Victoria Scouts and Cubs group committee will be held at the headquarters on Johnson Street, Tuesday, at 8 p.m. Parents are invited.
